The Honorable Mary A. Staib Brooksville City Mayor 201 Howell Avenue Brooksville, Florida 34601

Dear Mary:

Knowing that you are a member of the Hernando Chamber of Commerce, I wanted to take a moment to update you on some important economic news and the latest developments in Congress.

You should know that despite what you might be hearing on the evening news, the economy is strong and getting stronger. Job growth is healthy. You know this because your businesses are hiring. Average monthly payroll job growth for the last eight months is strong, averaging over 200,000 new jobs a month. America has had over eleven months of consecutive job growth.

Job growth is occurring in high-paying industries including manufacturing. On average, fewer Americans are in part-time jobs under this President than the last. Unemployment is at 5.5% and getting lower. Since last August, over 1.5 million new jobs have been created. Many key economic indicators are stronger today than at any other time in the last decade, including GDP growth and homeownership. Here are some facts you should know:

- · The economy has grown 4.8% in the past year, as fast as any year in nearly two decades.
- · Productivity grew at the fastest 3-year rate in more than 50 years.
- · Since December '01, Florida has added 288,650 new jobs.

Production and productivity have soared. Real GDP increased at an average 5.6% over the last three quarters. Propelled by low inflation and middle class tax relief, workers' after-tax pay has increased to $1,900. We are making progress, but, as the President has said, we will not rest until every American who wants a job has one.

In Congress, I am working on several issues that will make it easier for you to do business. One of the areas where I am fighting the hardest is liability reform. Did you know the tort liability price tag for small business in America is $88 billion a year? Small businesses bear 68% of business liability but take in only 25% of the business revenue. Your businesses need to have tort reform on a national level because its costs affect your businesses at all levels.

FEMA Map Modernization Project for Hernando County (M105-010) Subject:

Community Partner Memorandum of Agreement

Dear Mr. Geiger:

On August 8, 2004, a draft Memorandum of Agreement (MOA), for the above referenced project, was transmitted to you for your review and comments. The MOA is a document between the District, FEMA and the City of Brooksville (City) that attests the City will cooperate with FEMA and the District to update the local Flood Insurance Rate Maps.

By signing the MOA, the City: (1) affirms that it participated in the August 31, 2004 scoping meeting to identify and prioritize the flood mapping needs for Hernando County, Brooksville and Weeki Wachee, and to develop a scope of study to produce updated digital Flood Insurance Rate Maps (DFIRMs) and; (2) agrees to cooperate with the District to produce updated DFIRMs for unincorporated Hernando County and its incorporated communities. Cooperation includes, but is not specifically limited to: identifying existing data and flood hazard information that may be used to update the DFIRMs, communicating the City's needs and priorities related to the project, and attending community meetings. No direct cost to the City is associated with this agreement other than limited staff time for the aforementioned activities.

Please have all three originals of the enclosed MOA signed by the appropriate City representative and return the documents to my attention. After execution by the District's Executive Director and by FEMA, one will be returned for your records.

Re:

Hurricane Damage

Dear Ms. Phillips:

Cable service restoration in Hernando County is moving slowly, but steadily.

We are working very closely with utilities to ensure a coordinated effort in reestablishing quality service.

There are a few locations where our electronic devices continue to run on generators until commercial power is restored. And we still have individual customers with situations concerning the cable going into their houses. But thanks to the dedication of our own associates, and those who came from other areas/states to help out, we are making good progress!

Please call if you have any questions.

Dear Ms. Phillips:

All Bright House Networks call centers are open and extra phone lines and personnel have been added to accommodate customer inquiries.

Service restoration efforts depend on power being restored. In most cases, though, not all individual situations, cable service should return shortly after power is restored.

Bright House Networks technicians have been working all day as well as additional crews have been brought in to assist in returning our cable service.

Hernando County has been hit extremely hard with Frances and we will continue to work around the clock to restore service as quickly as possible.

I will keep you updated on our progress.

We have made tremendous strides in being able to activate our cable network over the past 24 hours.

As utility crews activate an area, Bright House Networks' crews are immediately Involved in making sure our network is operational.

We are continuing to rely on generators in a number of locations to keep our plant activated until power is restored. As our services are activated, individual customers may still have a service situation due to a downed line to their homes.

Hurricane information from U.S. Sen. Bill Nelson

From the office of U.S. Senator Bill Nelson

September 10, 2004

Please do not reply to this e-mail. If you need to send a message to Senator Nelson, please click here to use the form on his Web site.

With Hurricane Frances behind us and Hurricane Ivan heading our way, I wanted to send you a note with the most up-to-date information about where and how to apply for federal disaster assistance.

The hurricanes in the past month have destroyed many homes and businesses, and the ominous threat of Ivan is causing many Florida residents to worry about further devastation. I'm doing everything I can to make sure the federal government steps in to provide the resources we need for recovery efforts. This week, $2 billion of federal emergency aid was cleared and sent to FEMA so the agency can help meet the immediate needs of people recovering from Charley and Frances. More is needed, and in the coming weeks we are expected to pass additional measures that will provide additional federal assistance for Florida.

Attached are several websites and phone numbers that may be helpful, including information on locating shelters, identifying traffic jams, and reporting price gouging.

In the meantime, if you experience trouble with a specific federal agency or program, you can call my office toll-free in Florida at 888-671-4091. Or, if you're outside Florida, you can call 407-872-7161.

Sincerely,

Bill Notion

Agreement - Amendment No. 1

Dear Mr. Earhart:

Please find enclosed for your records a fully executed original of the above-referenced amendment document. Also enclosed for your records is a copy of the Agreement between the City and John and Patricia Sims regarding a related topic pertaining to their purchase and development of a related tract of land located within the CDBG-ED project area.

It is understood, per our prior conversation on August 31, 2004, that Berryman & Henigar is moving forward with the survey work to establish revised right-of-way parcel descriptions. Appraisal work may commence once the revised descriptions are established.

In conjunction with the revised rights-of-way location, Gene Manuel has requested design consideration on the elevation of the planned Providence Boulevard gravity sewer line, to accommodate a current dry line that is located near the southeast quadrant of the Tractor Supply Company site. I believe he has already contacted you on this. Please let me know if you have any questions or problems as it relates to this request by Mr. Manuel.

Also, talk to me if you have any questions concerning the enclosed agreements.

Dear Ms. Phillips:

Today it looks like Ivan will spare us the headaches that Frances inflicted on our communities... and that is a very good thing!

I want to express my gratitude to our customers, the utility companies, government agencies and our associates for their cooperation as we restored our cable service.

I can tell you that all our associates had only one thing in mind, and that was to answer customer inquiries and to restore service as quickly as possible.

As I have communicated earlier, our service has now been restored and during the process our belief was reinforced concerning the value and importance of our cable service and Bay News 9 to our communities, our families and to our homes.

Storm Debris Removal SUBJECT:

To minimize potential flooding, Public Works is concentrating on removing storm debris from swale/ditches and piles of debris along adjacent streets in known problem areas (progress is being complicated by new piles after areas are cleaned), as well as along collector streets to maintain full lane widths for traffic safety.

After Wednesday's (September 15, 2004) progress when all residential garbage trucks and both boom trucks (supplemented by dump trucks to minimize their down times from landfill trips) will be used for storm debris pickup, our plan to follow the regular garbage pickup routes for debris removal will be reviewed, adjusted as required, and estimated completion dates developed.

We will keep you advised as we proceed.

Re: Construction

Sorry for the delay in responding to your earlier email to me, but I wanted to make sure I communicated with my City Administrative Staff and stated the facts correctly.

Based on information I received from our City Manager, please be advised that unfortunately construction contractors frequently fail to meet completion dates, usually because they accepted more work than they can accomplish in the time allotted.

Penalties for exceeding completion dates are typically included in commercial construction contracts, and the suggestion that similar provisions be incorporated in residential contracts has considerable merit.

Obviously a contractor would increase the price but it may be less expensive than the cost incurred by the owner due to potential delays. Although legislation requiring such a provision in all private contracts may not be feasible, hopefully an owner's attorney will present that option.

It is my understanding this is a national rather than a local issue, and I do not know of a simple solution other than increased public awareness.

I am sending a copy of my comments to the County Development Department which processes building permits and inspections for both the City and the County for his information.

Additionally, the following is a copy of the email response I received from our Community Development Director related to my inquiry as a result of your email:

Karen,

In answer to your question, there is not a pre-designed response to this question.

The issue brought up by this person is a contract issue between a consumer and a contractor. A consumer has the ability to stipulate time lines and penalty provisions in an agreement with the selected contractor. It is not government's place to intervene at this level. Contractor's with reputations for being competent in meeting construction time frames (and are willing to put it in writing with a penalty provision to motivate them) are more likely to be selected by the consumer (to whom time frames are an issue).

It is government's place to ensure that permitting & inspection services are done in a timely manner that will not add undue time to the construction period. Permitting and inspection elements are factored into the contractor's time estimate and may be acknowledged on the front end in their contract with the consumer.

A response that paraphrases what is written above could be sent to this person.

Re: Construction

We also hear this complaint many times. My experience in over thirty years in this business, is a well crafted Subject: construction contract prepared and reviewed by an Attorney, not one given to the owner by the builder, is the best protection. The home builders in this area however, have been hard hit the past couple of years, due to material and labor shortages due to circumstances well beyond their control. Concrete availability has become a significant issue in just the past several months due to international issues, not just in Hernando County.

This in no way though should be interpreted to defend builders who mis-represent a reasonable construction schedule to their clients just to obtain a signed contract. Entering into a construction contract is a large responsibility and risk that consumers should not take lightly and certainly only after full consultation with legal representatives. Florida laws also are designed to protect the contractor and construction laborer and something that local government is prohibited by State law from restricting.

In view of the fact that Emory Pierce, your City of Brooksville Public Works Director, since receipt of his 8 30 '04 correspondence, has clearly shown me complete disregard & disrespect; please consider this as appropriate notice to you, his immediate superior, re: such unprincipled, reprehensible business behavior.

As a HERNANDO COUNTY taxpayer/homeowner/STATE OF FLORIDA resident for 46 of my 73 years; it seems incredible to say the very least, that any Hernando County employee be allowed such latitude in dealing with the general public. FYI...I:

Indeed, the hurricane(s) is/are no excuse whatsoever for Mr. Pierce' obvious lack of common courtesy. It is interesting to note that his referenced 8 30 'O4 communication entirely ignored my specific request, as relayed to Mr. Pierce by Mr. Steven G. Morgan, Environmental Engineer, FLORIDA DEPARTMENT OF ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION-Tampa. I do not intend to repeat that request Dick, as I fully expect you to elicit same from Mr. Pierce &, to contact me without fail, by no later than Monday September 20, 'O4. RE: City employees exemplary work on storm clean-up

Dear Karen:

We just wanted to thank all of the Brooksville city employees who worked so hard and so quickly to clean up and return things to normal after Hurricane Frances. Of all the crews who have worked in our area (both downtown Brooksville and Candlelight subdivision), it was the city workers who were first on the scene and who continued to be the busiest to clear debris from the streets, check neighborhoods for services interruptions and monitor further damage after the storm had passed.

We feel that as residents and business owners that this is a city whose employees care about the people who live in their area. We saw police, emergency services and fire department vehicles patrolling our areas. Other city people were first on the scene in the aftermath of the storm to start clearing away fallen tree limbs and debris to make roads passable. Garbage collection never missed a day.

Please forward our thanks to all of those people who we know must have worked longer than normal hours (and probably still are) to help return us to a state of normalcy. Their efforts are greatly appreciated.

Dear Customer:

Subject: Your Recent Estimated Bill

Progress Energy Florida would like to thank you for your patience while we worked to overcome the challenges that Hurricane Frances presented. As was the case with many of our employees, our meter readers were working around the clock assisting with the restoration process. Because of this effort, we were unable to read your meter this month and consequently, you were presented with an estimated bill. We apologize for any inconvenience this may have caused you.

How Do We Estimate Bills? Please know that our estimate calculation is very specific to each customer. This estimate is derived from your past usage history, rate application (Residential or Commercial) and the weather over the past 30 days. The amount billed this month may be slightly more or less than your actual usage. However, your bill will selfadjust next month to correct for any difference.

If you are interested in reviewing your usage history, please visit our website at www.progress-energy.com. Please log on to the "My Account" section to see your detailed account information or refer to the usage graph on the left side of your electric bill. On our website, you can also learn about payment options and view helpful tips for lowering your bills in the future.

As part of Progress Energy's commitment to excellence, we strive to provide outstanding customer service and satisfaction. We again, apologize for any inconvenience this may have caused you, and we look forward to continuing to meet your energy needs. Comed Len Dezt Hends

Sincerely,

Brian Burek Manager, Customer Accounting Operations

To whom this may concern:

I wish to address an ongoing problem at the end of Moonlight Lane in Candlelight Estates that the electric company has pointed out along with my own issues regarding this safety nuisance. Apparently for years the neighborhood has "encouraged" dumping communal refuse at the end of my street onto the electric company's access area without the city intervening. Consequently, this has at least twice this last year blocked Progress Energy's attempt to drive back there to repair power lines directly beside/behind my house which is the last house on the street adjoining the access area. Both times this resulted in major delays in restoring power to the development. The first problem took place last Super Bowl Sunday evening when lightning struck a tree which then fell on a blocked power line. The second and more noticeable event was the day before hurricane Frances. Precious time and money as wasted because the access area was AGAIN already blocked to the power company. One homeowner from another street even repeatedly dumped large cut-up trees that he hauls over in his truck. This individual has cursed at me when I have tried to explain that I am handicapped, unable to get out of my driveway which ends right where he dumps, and both I and the public need that area to safely back out. He along with others don't care that this impedes Progress Energy's restoration efforts - as long as the trash blocks MY driveway and not THEIRS.

Furthermore, at least every half-hour daily strangers use and abuse my driveway for a general access turnaround. Each time this access area is blocked, even more people drive across my lawn. This ongoing abuse of my driveway with or even without the neighborhood dumpsite as my front yard view ruins my driveway at a much accelerated rate. I constantly repair the lower end, and now the city's cement gutter/curb between the paved road and my driveway is rapidly breaking up, too. Typically, only commercial trucks bother to turn around in the vacant property dirt "drive-way" just before the end of the road also currently used for such purpose. This property is currently for sale.

A small paved turnaround in the access area at the end of Moonlight Lane will save in wasted time and money in power outages and frustration by ALL drivers concerned. If this solution is not feasible, please at least officially post the site as a "No Dumping" area to band-aide the ongoing problem.

Sincerely yours,

Carole M. Crystal

Mayor of Brooksville City Hall Brooksville, FL 34601

Dear Sir:

Three days after Hurricane Charley came to call in Parakeet Park in Lake Wales, the Brooksville Emergency Response Team roared in and got right to work clearing tree debris. We are grateful to all the workers and the people/agency that made their work possible. I think, perhaps, their ability to get the job done and their cheerful and polite demeanor, gave the rest of us a psychological jolt to get moving on our own behalf.

As one resident who substantially benefitted from their abilities, we are ever so grateful. A huge tree had rested partly on a corner of our house, but 90% of the tree had demolished my husband's woodworking shop. B.E.R.T. worked several hours removing the tree from the house and shop. We were in a quandary how we were going to get this accomplished - they showed us the way!! We will soon be getting rid of the remainder of the tree, the house will be repaired, and as I write, my husband is rebuilding his shop.

Please let the entire crew who helped us so valiantly, know that their work is inspiring and in this case, showed us that once you tackle a job, it gets done.

We are grateful to B.E.R.T. - may the good work they do continue to help others, especially those who are currently experiencing the havoc a hurricane brings. May those people, too, be inspired to pick themselves up as we did after B.E.R.T. came to town.

Thank you for your part in deploying this team and please express our thanks to whomever else has been a part of the B.E.R.T. concept.

Additionally ,we were reassured of our safety upon seeing a Brooksville police presence for several days and we experienced no looting nor untoward incidents. Thank you and your Police Department for sending the additional surveillance and express our gratitude to all. Brooksville must be a great place to live!

Gratefully yours.

Subject: Proposal to Annex the Good Neighbor Trail Property

Date: September 28, 2004

Dear Mr. Wever,

This is in follow-up to your question at an earlier City Council meeting concerning the possibility of annexing the Good Neighbor Trail property out to Jasmine Drive.

This property is owned by the City of Brooksville, and is contiguous with the present City boundary and may be annexed into the City at some point in the future. It is not recommended that the City annex the property into the City at this time due to the potential creation of an enclave when other private properties in the area annex (such as Majestic Oaks). From a planning perspective, it would be better for these private properties to annex first, and then consider the annexation of the GNT tract. It is anticipated that the annexation of the city-owned property would be less controversial and less likely to be challenged by an outside entity.

Attached is a sketch that shows the GNT tract and the potential enclave/pocket area that could be created with the annexation of additional property to the north and east. Please contact me if you have any questions.

The FLA Arts Congress-2004 was a great success, thanks to Co-Sponsors: Kiwanis Club of Niceville-Valparaiso, City of Niceville, and Rocky Bayou Baptist Church of Niceville.

Excellent food service at the Niceville Community Center on Thursday evening plus a truly outstanding program is noted in M/C Bob Fischer's remarks in this issue.

Registrar Ann Bennett, assisted by Frances Brown and JoAnn Balkom, completed an exceptional task of placing some 400 young people in classes taught by 19 clinicians during the Friday student workshops at Rocky Bayou Baptist Church-Niceville. The church has more than adequate classrooms plus a very large auditorium. Students brought "sack lunches" for a brief lunch.

The theme for the FLA-AC2004 was "Honoring Our Cultural Heritage". An important contribution was the 2-hour Local History Panel. Chaired by Jerry Melvin, former Dean of the Florida House of Representatives and a popular radio commentator, the panel brought students and public into "live" history with the following: Dr. Fran Cary (St. Petersburg, Executive Director of Florida Humanities Council), Diana DeMartino (Tallahassee, Arts Education & Community Development in the Division of Cultural Affairs under Secretary of State Glenda Hood), Chris LaRoche (founding curator of Heritage Museum in Valparaiso), Dr. Ed McCracken (first President-Emeritus of Okaloosa-Walton Community College and possessor of a table cloth containing signatures of famous participants during all of the college's American Arts Festivals), James E. Moore, Esq. (author of Florida localcolor history books and a spell-binding tellar of tales; a civic and Boy Scouts leader, and "Dean" of West Florida attorneys), Mabel Jean Morrison, (former Assistent Superintendent and Supervisor of Instruction in Leon and Okaloosa counties, who manages a family farm in the north county during her "retirement"), Torn Rice (Fort Walton Beach restauranteur, who represents leading early settler Beal and Stuckey families), and C. Walter Ruckel (Chairman of Valparaiso Bank & Trust, developer representing founding Piew and Ruckel families).

FLA Honors Concert was held Friday evening March 26th at Rocky Bayou Baptist Church. Minister of Music Tony Gibson and the Ruckel Middle School Band provided an exceptional Prekidium, which was followed by truly outstanding piano pieces by Cynthia and Stephanie Bova and the full Jazz ensemble from Ruckel Middle School under Eddie Steadman. Niceville H.S. ROTC provided a color guard, Dr. J. Rawlins of UWF led audience participation, Rev. Dale Julio gave the Invocation, and Superintendent Don Gaetz gave impressive remarks concerning the role of Arts in education.

Homeland Security Efforts Bring 49 Jurisdictions Together Within the Cincinnati-Hamilton County Area

County, OH (pop. 845,268) and since 2003, the city and county have been participants in the federal Urban Area Security Initiative (UASI) grant program. "To its credit," said Peter Hames, Senior Executive Assistant County Administrator, "UASI has successfully brought the city and county together to work on homeland security." This article highlights some of those joint city-county efforts.

TPAT

One of the first steps was the county board's appointment of a Terrorism Preparedness Advisory Team (TPAT), whose members include the ten critical disciplines made up of first responders (e.g., law enforcement, fire, EMS, emergency management, communications, etc.). TPAT also has representatives from other key groups (e.g., Red Cross, County Coroner, and County Municipal League). TPAT oversaw the first UASI-required threat and vulnerability assessment of the 49 jurisdictions within Hamilton County.

The team has also approved two year's of UASI spending plans. The top priority went to purchasing personal protective equipment for first responders. In addition, taking a subregional approach results in, for example, mobile decontamination stations being purchased and located outside of Cincinnati and within the county. Weapons of mass destruction (WMD) threats have also dictated that the region's hospitals be outfitted with response equipment.

The COP: Sentinels on the Force

By Sid Klein, Chief of Police, Clearwater, FL Police Department

Because the daily hostilities and death don't erupt on our soil, some Americans forget that our's is a nation at war.

I never forget we're at war.

Although no large-scale attacks have occurred in the U.S. since September 11, 2001, it's nonetheless likely American soil will once again be bloodied by ideologues and zealots, indiscriminate killers we call terrorists.

And because these largely anonymous people pose a clear and present danger to the safety of our country, the Clearwater, FL (pop. 108,787) Police Department (CPD) has created an antiterrorism program aimed at prevention and preparedness.

We call this program "Project Sentinel." Starting with a $250,000 federal grant, CPD is now training all its police officers on everything from

Local elected officials given flexibility in scheduling tax, budget hearings, accepting property tax petitions

Gov. Jeb Bush and the state's emergency-management authorities have issued orders allowing city and county commissions, school boards, and special taxing districts additional flexibility to respond to weather-related emergencies when scheduling public hearings on property-tax millage rates and proposed budgets.

"Local elected officials are working around the clock, doing all they can in response to hurricanes Charley and Frances and preparing for Hurricane Ivan," said Gov. Bush. "These directives provide necessary flexibility so that local governments can get on with the job of providing service to citizens in this challenging period."

Craig Fugate, director of the Division of Emergency Management and the state coordinating officer designated by Gov. Bush to respond to recent hurricane-related emergencies, issued a supplementary order Thursday that provided legal guidance for local governments currently finalizing their 2004-2005 budgets and 2005 property-tax rates.

The orders:

- Allow local governments to reschedule tentative or final property-tax millage or budget hearings if the hearings could not be held at the time and place indicated on the notices of proposed property taxes mailed to taxpayers. Rescheduled meetings must be advertised in local newspapers of general paid circulation at least two days and not more than five days before the hearing. Notices at least 8 by 11 inches giving the time and place of the hearings also shall be posted on the door of the hearing place.
- Allow local Value Adjustment Boards additional flexibility in accepting taxpayers' petitions protesting property tax assessments.
- Suspend for 60 days a legal requirement prohibiting county commissions and school districts serving the same county from holding tentative or final millage and budget hearings on the same day. Under the emergency directive, county commissions and school districts serving the same county could hold tentative or final millage and budget hearings on the same day but at different times on that day. Other taxing authorities in that county will schedule hearings so as not to conflict with the county commission or school district hearings. To the extent practicable, all taxing authorities shall schedule hearings at a time that will ensure that the public can attend.
- Suspend for 60 days certain legal requirements regarding the timing of final millage and budget hearings. Under the emergency directive, a local government can convene a final millage and budget hearing at a scheduled time and place and then recess the hearing, if the hurricane-related emergency makes it necessary to reconvene and continue the hearing. The recessed hearing shall be reconvened in the next seven days, and notices shall be prominently posted to ensure that taxpayers are informed of the scheduled place, time, and date at which the hearing will - Allow local governments to proceed if weather-related conditions have forced the cancellation of a scheduled millage and budget hearing prior to the date of the emergency directive. This covers local governments that prominently posted a notice of the rescheduled hearing and also have made every reasonable effort to inform taxpayers of the rescheduled hearing.
- Allow property appraisers who have sent out late notices of millage and budget hearings involving multi-county taxing authorities to advertise rescheduled hearings in certain circumstances in which other property appraisers have mailed timely notices for the rescheduled hearing. Multi-county taxing authorities include water management districts and certain other districts.
